Airbus A380

Today is a special day for aeroplanes. The largest passenger aeroplane ever in the world – the Airbus A380 – will visit Hong Kong today. In fact, if the weather is good, it will fly over the Victoria Harbour in the morning.

As Dizzy and Christine are both free today, they plan to take their son Kelvin to see the plane. Of course, Kelvin is excited about this event. First they will go to Tsim Sha Tsui to see the plane flying over the harbour. After that, they will go to the new airport to see different kinds of planes. At the new airport, Dizzy will teach Kelvin things that he knows about aeroplanes. For example, he will tell Kelvin that the Airbus A380 is a double-deck aeroplane, which can seat over 500 to 800 passengers.
